Accommodation in Frankfurt

Frankfurt is the financial capital of Europe. The city has the largest stock market in Europe and a remarkable number of museums, situated on the banks on the Main River.

The prominent quarter of the town is the "Römerberg", a square enclosed by old half-timbered houses and the Town Hall, called "Römer".

There are numerous restaurants and delicatessen shops to choose from in the so called "Fressgass".

There are many reputable publishing houses in Frankfurt and every year in October, the city hosts an International Book Fair.
